GLENDALÉ COUNCILMEMBER LAUREN TOLMACHOFF HIGHLIGHTS CITY GOVERNMENT ON “GLENDALÉ TODAY” Introduces Students to Democracy at Work

Glendale, Ariz. — Glendale Councilmember Lauren Tolmachoff of the Cholla District give viewers and school children a lesson in civics in her new edition of the TV show “Glendale Today”. Councilmember Tolmachoff takes 120 fourth graders from Sierra Verde, a K-8 school in the Deer Valley Unified School District, on a tour of Glendale City Hall and provides an inside look at how local government works.

Councilmember Tolmachoff talks to the students about the rights and responsibilities of citizens and elected officials. The students also hear from managers of the city’s key departments, including the police chief, the fire chief and the director of parks and recreation. The students, who are studying Arizona government, also got an inside view of the workings of the Mayor’s office, the Council office, the City Clerk’s office and the City Attorneys’ office. Here’s a sneak peek at the show.

The new program begins airing November 13 at 8p.m. “Glendale Today” is produced by staff from the city-owned TV station Glendale 11. The show will air daily on Glendale 11 as well as online via the city’s video library at www.glendaleaz.com/video and exclusive segments can be found on the city’s YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/MyGlendale11.
